The Gunboats Building "for the Emperor of China."

The Government Catechised in the House of Lords.

A More Stringent Enforcement of the Foreign Enlistment Act Demanded.

THE CONFEDERATE LOAN AT A PREMIUM.

A Joint Note to Russia on Polish Affairs.

The Royal Mail steamer Persia, Capt. JUDKINS, which left Liverpool at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of the 11th, and Queenstown on the 12th inst., arrived here yesterday morning.

The new steamer Anglia, of the Cuthbert line, had been making her official trial trips at Southampton, and steamed at the rate of 13¾ knots per hour.

England, France and Austria sent simultaneous dispatches to Russia on the 10th instant relative to Poland. The dispatches are friendly, but all of them convey an intelligible warning.

Russia exhibited active military preparations.

The English Government had been catechised in the House of Lords as to the gunboats being built in England for the Emperor of China.

The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce had called on the Government to make the Foreign Enlistment act more stringent.

The steamer Alar arrived at Plymouth on the 11th instant, and reports speaking the steamer Japan, alias the Virginia, on the 9th, and received from her seventeen men, two of whom were wounded from an explosion in her machinery on the 4th.

The Japan had been lying off the French coast for three days, and proceeded to sea on the 9th inst. She is said to have received a large supply of arms and ammunition.

The Bethia Thayer, arrived at Nantes from Callao, reported having been boarded on the 24th ult. by the Confederate steamer Alabama, and released on the master signing a bond for $30,000.

AMERICAN TOPICS IN ENGLAND.

At a special meeting of the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce, the following report was submitted from the Committee on the destruction of ships by the Alabama, and, after some debate, was adopted:

"This Committee having reconsidered the question referred to it, together with the letters subsequently received from the New-York Chamber of Commerce, begs leave to report that the building and equipping in ports of this country, of such vessels as the Alabama manifestly contravenes the intention of the Foreign Enlistment act, entitled "An act to prevent the enlisting and engagement of Her Majesty's subjects to serve in foreign service, and the fitting out or equipping in Her Majesty's dominions vessels for warlike purposes without Her Majesty's license." That the provisions of the said act, according to the opinion of the Solicitor-General, are insufficient of being easily evaded, which appears to be confirmed by the fact of the Alabama having evaded them, notwithstanding that her destination was reasonably suspected, and that the attention of our Government was directed to her, while in course of construction, with the view of having the act put in force against her whenever sufficient legal evidence should appear for doing so; that this alleged insufficiency of the act tends to expose our professions of neutrality to the charge of insincerity, and to establish a precedent which may be turned against us hereafter, to our harassing effect against ourselves. That, in consideration of the above evils, this Committee is of opinion that the Liverpool Chamber of Commerce should memorialize Her Majesty's Government to endeavor, in concert with the Government of the United States, to make such alteration in the Foreign Enlistment acts of both countries as shall seem best calculated to prevent systematic evasion, and restrain the citizens of each country from contributing, in the present desire of their respective Governments to maintain, upon all occasions, a strictly neutral attitude toward friendly Powers who may happen to be belligerents; and that a copy of this report be transmitted to the New-York Chamber of Commerce."

It was reported in Liverpool that Government officials were making inquiries in that town in reference to the Alabama.

THE ALEXANDRA.

Although the "Broad Arrow," (the Government marks,) was placed on the gunboat Alexandra, when she was seized, the men continued to work on her. On the 9th, however, a telegram was received from Government, ordering that the work should cease, and that nothing should be removed. An official immediately went on board and turned off the men.

A legal investigation is to take place immediately.

TWO MORE GUNBOATS.

It is stated that the Government had been in communication with Messrs. LAIRD, of Birkenhead, relative to two gunboats alleged to be building at their establishment for the Confederates. Messrs. LAIRD, in reply, formally assured the Government that they were being built for the Emperor of China.

THE JAPAN ALIAS VIRGINIA.

The steamer Japan, now called the Virginia, which sailed recently from the Clyde for a Southern port, had several guns on board. She is a splendid model and was built by DENNY BROTHERS, of Dumbarton.

THE BLOCKADE.

The London Morning Post remarks that the American blockade is the only efficient mode by which the North can carry on the war, but the maritime Powers may in time have to consider how long such a mode of warfare is to endure.

THE REBEL LOAN.

There was considerable activity in the Confederate Loan in London and Liverpool on the 10th, and it advanced to 1 6-16 premium. The loan was also openly dealt in on the Paris Bourse, where it was quoted at 1 0-16 premium.

EMIGRATION OF OPERATIVES.

A meeting had been held at Manchester to organize measures for assisting the unemployed operatives to emigrate. An Influential Committee was appointed, and a subscription was set on foot to carry out the movement.

CONVOYING BRITISH VESSELS.

The London Shipping Gazette refers to a British merchantman being convoyed from Barbados by one of Her Majesty's ships, and remarks: "If our cruisers on the West India Station only received general instructions to convoy all British vessels engaged in legitimate trade, wherever such protection is required and sought, we shall soon hear no more of the annoyance and detention which have of late occupied so much attention." The Shipping Gazette learns that it is the intention of the French Government to protect the French shipping in the same manner.

FRANCE.

The Times Paris correspondent, in describing the presentation of the newly elected member of the French Academy, M. FAVRAUD, to the Emperor, observes, from what his Majesty said about his literary studies, it is clear that he seriously entertains the idea of offering himself, either before or after the completion of his work on Cæsar, as candidate to the Academy.

The monthly returns of the Bank of France show an increase in the cash on hand of nearly thirty-three millions of francs, and a decrease in the bills discounted of sixteen millions. Rentes closed on the 9th at 69.85.

POLAND.

IMPORTANT DIPLOMATIC ACTION.

The London Times announces that dispatches for St. Petersburgh were sent on the 10th from London, Paris and Vienna, with instructions to the representatives of Great Britain, France and Austria at that city to read these dispatches to Prince GORTSCHAKOFF, and to deliver copies of them.

They are couched in friendly terms, but all convey an intelligible warning to the Russian Government. The Russian Government, on their side, have sent Gen. BAER to Warsaw, to supersede the Grand Duke CONSTANTINE. Vigor, without cruelty, is said to be the spirit of his instructions. The Times adds that the Polish rebellion appears to gather strength and resources from despair, and fresh confidence at the very moment when cold calculations, based on the ordinary events of ordinary wars, would have led us to suppose that nothing remained but abject and complete submission.

The Times has hopes of amelioration in the policy of Russia toward Poland, owing to the internal condition of the Russian Empire.

A Vienna dispatch of April 10 says:

"The Emperor NAPOLEON has asked the Government of Turin whether, in case of certain eventualities, Italy would be prepared to act as an armed ally with 50,000 men in the field. Gen. CIALDINI has answered in the affirmative, declaring that he would pledge himself to be ready with the requisite force at the shortest notice."

A Cracow telegram, of April 9, says:

"Gen. BAER has arrived in Warsaw, and was received by the officers of the army. The General, in the name of the Emperor, thanked the army for their fidelity and courage.

It is probable that the Grand Duke CONSTANTINE and Count WIELOPOLSKI will leave Warsaw.

Rumors are current that the guards from Tarskoe Selo are on the march to Lithuania.

The bands of insurgents under CZERNIEWSKY and OGINSKY are augmenting.

RUSSIA.

The Nord Deutsche Zeitung, of Berlin, publishes a telegram from Paris announcing that intelligence had been received that the entire Russian army is about to be placed on a war footing.

The same telegram asserts that Baron DE BUSSSIO, the Russian Ambassador in Paris, was informed by his Government that the increase of the army had become necessary on account of former reduction, and that Cronstadt has also been placed in a state of defence. Neither of these measures have, however, been taken with any aggressive tendency.

Another telegram says the Russian armaments would appear to be directed against Sweden, and affirms that a quarrel is imminent between the two countries.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday, April 11—5 P. M.

Cotton.—The Brokers' Circular says: There has been a continued good demand from the trade this week, and notwithstanding some little reaction shown on Monday, caused by the news of a serious decline in Exchange on New-York, prices have been generally well maintained. The only decline has been in American, Egyptian and Maceio, which are 1@¼d. lower, but for all other descriptions last week's quotations are resumed. The sales of the week have been 32,490 bales, including 2,130 taken by speculators, and 1,600 by exporters. Yesterday (Friday) there was a moderate inquiry, without any material change in prices. OPERATIONS ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

An Official Account of the Operations of Admiral Farragut.

CINCINNATI, Wednesday, April 22.

A special dispatch from Memphis to the Cincinnati Gazette gives the following particulars of the passage of the Vicksburgh batteries:

Seven gunboats, one ram, (the one taken from the rebels,) and three transports, started on Thursday last to run the blockade.

All went well until about two-thirds of the way down, when the hills back of Vicksburgh were lit up with large fires.

The transport Forest Queen at once returned. The Henry Clay was compelled to stop. Several shots struck her below the water-line, and others passed through her. All hands made for a flatboat, as the boat was sinking. It is believed that all were lost. The pilot floated down the river nine miles on a plank, and was picked up opposite Warrenton.

The Forest Queen was considerably damaged and had her steam drum shot away.

At last accounts heavy firing was heard in the vicinity of Warrenton, supposed to be the gunboats shelling the batteries at that point.

There are sixteen gunboats below Vicksburgh now, including three under FARRAGUT.

THE MOVEMENTS OF ADMIRAL FARRAGUT.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, April 22.

The Navy Department has received the following official dispatch, dated United States steam-sloop Pensacola, off New-Orleans, April 12:

"On the morning of the 27th ult., at about daybreak, Admiral FARRAGUT, in the Hartford, engaged the batteries at Warrenton, three miles below Vicksburgh, and passed below it.

On the morning of the 30th ult., before daylight, the Albatross having taken in a full supply of provisions from a barge, which had been floated down the previous morning by Admiral PORTER, also passed the Warrenton battery and anchored near the flag-ship.

It was blowing quite heavily from the north on the morning of the 29th. About 1 A. M., the wharf-boat Vicksburgh having broken adrift from her moorings at the city, floated down and ran ashore opposite to where the Hartford and Albatross were anchored.

During the day an officer was sent on board of the Vicksburgh, who found that all her machinery had been removed. She had nothing on board save four muskets and accoutrements, which probably belonged to the guard.

While the Admiral was hesitating as to the propriety of retaining her as a wharf-boat, or rather depot, the rebels came down and on the night of the 30th burnt her.

The Switzerland, Hartford and Albatross being all filled up with coal and provisions, floated down by Gen. GRANT and Admiral PORTER in barges, and the damages to the Switzerland being fully repaired, the vessels passed Warrenton on the morning of the 31st ult., and at daylight the little squadron got underway and proceeded down the river to a Mr. TURNER's plantation, where, on our passage, we had seen the wreck of the Indiancia. We found no traces of the wreck, but learned that it had slid off into deep water during the late gale.

We anchored at this place, and remained until about 6:30 P. M., when we got under way, proceeded down and engaged the battery at Grand Gulf.

This battery consisted of twelve or fourteen heavy guns sent down from Vicksburgh. One of these guns was mounted upon a steamer which had been concealed up the Big Black River.

The enemy had also a light field battery. They struck the Switzerland twice, doing no damage, however. The Albatross was not struck at all. The Hartford was struck only once; but this shot struck an iron hainmock stanchion, and threw a fragment of it forward nearly half the length of the ship, and killed a man named Jesse, a landsman. This was the only casualty.

At daylight, on the 1st inst., we got under way, and proceeded to the mouth of Red River, where we anchored about sundown, destroying, in our passage down, a large number of skiffs and flat-boats.

We remained blockading Red River, at its mouth, until the morning of the 6th instant, when we got under way at about 4½ A. M., and proceeded down to Bayou Sara, where we moored, seized upon and threw into the river about 10,000 sacks of corn, and then proceeded on our way to Port Hudson, where we anchored about five miles above the batteries, at 3 P. M. on the 6th inst.

On the evening of the 7th inst., at 8½ o'clock, the writer of this communication, the Secretary of the Rear-Admiral, left the Hartford and boarded the Richmond, off Baton Rouge. About 2 A. M. on the 8th instant.

The health of the squadron above is good."

Two rebel deserters are upon the Minnesota. They state they belonged to the Merrimac No. 2; that they had recently left her lying at the obstructions near Fort Darling, on the James River, and when they left a large number of workmen were engaged removing the obstructions from the river at that point—for what purpose is not stated.

The steamer Corvin Martin arrived at Fortress Monroe at 1 o'clock this forenoon with Gen. HALLECK, where he was joined by Major-Gen. DIX, and they both proceeded on the way to Suffolk.

The skirmishing on the Nansemond ceased yesterday about noon, and has not been renewed to-day.

IMPORTANT FROM ALBANY

A Curious Scene in a Police Court—An Unfounded Report Regarding Speaker Colfax, &c.

From Our Own Correspondent.

ALBANY, Wednesday, April 22, 1863.

The Broadway bill being the special order in the House yesterday, 4 P. M., the Assembly Chamber became the peculiar theatre of interest and excitement. The vote of the morning creating the special order, indicated that the supporters of the bill were in the majority, and it was supposed, therefore, that it would go to a third reading at that sitting. But this proved to be a mistake. The opponents of the bill presented a firm, solid front, and it was not long before it became apparent that they were prepared to contest it section by section, line by line. In comparison, the contest in the Senate was of mild character. There was more determination, as well as bitterness of feeling, and the friends of the measure were not long in learning that success could not be obtained short of preserving the best of discipline and the most unwearied persistence.

Mr. DERAW moved to substitute for the corporators named, Mr. STEWART and his associates, provided that within twenty days they give bonds to pay $2,000,000 for the franchise and build the road—the money to be invested for the benefit of our soldiers and their families. In case the bond is not given, then the Law stage corporators to take the franchise.

This was rejected—46 Yeas to 56 Nays.

Mr. LAURA offered an amendment, constituting the Mayor, Comptroller and Corporation Counsel a Board of Commissioners, to expose for sale the franchise to the highest bidder, which was rejected—Yeas 46, Nays 58.

Mr. DERAW proposed to insert the names of E. D. MORGAN and ROYAL PETTIS, as Trustees for the Stage Proprietors, whose lines run down Broadway or through other streets and avenues mentioned in the bill, and who are not represented therein.

Mr. MURPHY proposed to add the name of HORATIO SEYMOUR as a Commissioner, and Mr. DERAW accepted the same.

This was carried by a decided vote, and without a division.

Mr. HITCHMAN proposed an amendment, empowering the corporators, as an association, to lay down and operate the proposed road. To this Mr. J. S. HAYNES proposed to add "whenever they have obtained the consent of two-thirds of the property-owners along the line." This giving rise to debate on a question of order, Mr. H. withdrew the amendment, when Mr. WEAVER renewed it. It was lost—39 to 49. The amendment of Mr. HITCHMAN was then adopted—53 to 36.

Mr. FREEMAN proposed to add the name of THOMAS MCLELLAND.

At this stage of the proceedings, Mr. FERAN (friend of the bill) moved that the Committee rise and report progress, which motion was carried, and the Committee rose.

A motion was then made to adjourn, which was lost—Nays 48, Yeas 61.

Mr. CRUGER moved that the Committee of the Whole be discharged from the further consideration of the bill, and that the same be referred to a Select Committee, to report complete at any time, and moved the previous question. Before it was ordered, Mr. OSWALD moved to adjourn, and demanded the yeas and nays.

The motion to adjourn was lost—Yeas 46, Nays 48. The yeas and nays were then demanded on ordering the previous question, and while the yeas and nays were being called Mr. WEAVER raised to the point of order that the 40th rule says that no bill shall be referred to a Select Committee to report complete. This point of order was decided to be well taken, and the whole of Mr. CRUGER's motion fell to the ground. Mr. WEAVER then moved to adjourn, and the question was taken by yeas and nays, and lost, 42 to 49.

Mr. FERAN then moved that the Committee of the Whole be discharged from the further consideration of the bill, that it be recommitted to the Standing Committee on Railroads, with power to report complete and at any time, and on this motion he demanded the previous question. On the question of ordering the previous question the yeas and nays were demanded, and it was decided in the affirmative—Yeas 66, Nays 42. The question then recurred on the motion of Mr. FERAN, on which the yeas and nays were taken, and it was carried—Yeas 62, Nays 42.

And the House adjourned, it being half an hour before midnight.

While these proceedings were taking place, the opposition to the bill (in the lobby) were busy in making a flank movement of an unexpected and novel character. About 9 o'clock, an officer of the City Police Court appeared in the lobby with a large number of subpœnas addressed to members of the House and gentlemen of the lobby, from which it appeared proceedings of some sort had been commenced in that Court against Speaker COLFAX, the precise character of which seemed to be known to no one.

Up to midnight no further developments revealed, and the officer in question continued his search for those whose whereabouts could not be ascertained. It was finally concluded on all hands, that the proceedings were nothing more or less than a strategic movement, having reference solely to the Broadway bill—a bombshell thrown at random, with no expectation of hitting any one in particular, but in the hope that the explosion might cause a stampede, and possibly some more serious consequences.

Among those subpœnaed were George Law, Peter B. Sweeney, Hugh J. Hastings, A. Van Vechten, besides other gentlemen, well known in connection with legislation.

At the hour of 10 this morning, at which time the subpœnas required the gentlemen to whom they were addressed, to be present, the Police Court, which is over the Fish Market, and therefore perfectly regolent of a very villainous smell, was illuminated by the presence of Mr. LAW, and several others.

Mr. Justice JOHN O. CEBRA, of ancient memory, retired to a side room, where others interested in the proceedings were requested to retire. Ex-District-Attorney SHAFER, J. J. WEBBER and WM. A. HASKIN were there. In reply to inquiries, Mr. CEBRA said that an affidavit had been made, but by whom or to what import he declined to disclose. The proceedings were preliminary, and might amount to nothing—the sole purpose being to ascertain whether process should issue. At present, there was nothing for the public eye or ear, and he refused utterly to give any public announcement of the proceedings. They might amount to something or nothing.

Mr. LAW was thereupon taken into a small private room with the Justice and the two aforesaid lawyers, where they remained two hours.

It is understood that the examination related wholly to whether Mr. LAW had used money to influence legislation. I understand that nothing was elicited satisfactory to those at the bottom of the proceedings, the upshot of the testimony of Mr. LAW being that he has paid nothing directly or indirectly to influence legislation.

Thereupon the Court adjourned, and the other witnesses informed that if they were wanted they would be sent for. I presume this is the last of the plot—for it can scarcely be considered anything else—a secret, inquisition without parallel.

I see that the Associated Press and other correspondents sent forward the grossly false report that Mr. Speaker COLFAX was charged with bribery, and that in it these proceedings related. Now the fact is, Mr. COLFAX has been served with no paper or process whatever, and that he knows nothing of the proceedings. The report appears to have no foundation in truth. I am free to acquit the Associated Press reporter of any unworthy motive in the case; he probably acted on misinformation.

THE WAR IN TENNESSEE.

Fighting near Memphis—The Rebels Twice Defeated and Driven Across the Coldwater.

CHICAGO, Wednesday, April 22.

A special dispatch from Memphis, dated April 21, says:

"On Saturday evening, three regiments of infantry and one of cavalry left Memphis, on a reconnoitering expedition. When near Nonoena, the cavalry came upon a detachment of BYRNE's rebel cavalry. A fight ensued, resulting in the repulse of the rebels.

The next morning the cavalry again attacked the rebels, killing twenty, wounding forty, and capturing eighty. The rebels fled in great confusion across the Coldwater.

After crossing, the latter received reinforcements, and the Federals fell back to Hernando. The rebels were so severely handled that they did not attempt to follow.

At Hernando we were reinforced by infantry and artillery, under Col. BRYANT, who moved to the Coldwater and attacked the rebels on the opposite side of that river. The fight lasted until sundown, and was confined chiefly to the infantry, as the artillery could not be successfully used as desired.

Our loss is five killed and fifteen wounded.

Col. BRYANT holds a strong position.

Destruction of a Large Amount of Rebel Stores.

LOUISVILLE, Wednesday, April 22.

The Munfordsville expedition to Celina has returned to Glasgow, having destroyed the town of Celina, 100,000 pounds of bacon, 20,000 bushels of wheat and corn, 100 barrels each of whisky and flour, a considerable quantity of sugar, tea, coffee, salt and other stores; and 40 boats used by the rebels for transporting supplies. The rebels admit a loss of 90 killed. Col. GRAHAM thinks their loss greater. The National loss was one killed and one wounded.

The Potersburgh Mails Delivered up.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—APRIL 22.

Judge BETTS this morning rendered an oral decision on the motion of the United States District-Attorney to deliver over the mail of the Peterhoff to him, to be given to the British Consul. The question upon which the decision turned was simply as to the power of the District-Attorney in the suit, and the rights of the captors in it. The Judge discussed at some length the practice of Prize Courts, showing that the District-Attorney had full control of the matter, and could lay evidence before the Court or withhold it in his discretion. He did not decide whether this mail-bag was, by the rules of the prize law, subject to search and examination, but said that his impression was strong that it must be considered to be a part of the evidence in the cause, and as the District-Attorney desired to withdraw it from the Court, his motion must be granted. The following is the order directed to be entered, which embraces the point of the decision:

"On filing proofs, the Attorney of the United States moved the Court that he have leave to withdraw from the custody of the Court a mail-bag of the British Government, captured at sea by a vessel-of-war of the United States with the above vessel, and on board of her for transmission from the port of London, England, to Matamoras, Mexico.

And Mr. Upton, of counsel for the captors, having been heard in opposition to the motion, it is considered by the Court that the United States Attorney is by law officially master of suits prosecuted by the United States in the Prize Court, and has thereby authority at his discretion to offer to or withhold from the consideration of the Court any particular of testimony relative to a prize suit in prosecution in Court under his discretion.

Wherefore it is ordered that the aforesaid mail-bag be delivered to the United States Attorney out of the custody of the Court, to be by him disposed of conformably to the instructions of the Government of the United States."

LATE NEWS FROM MEXICO.

The French Reports of Operations at Puebla.

Comonfort Said to be Defeated---Failure of a Sally Made by Ortega.

A Rumor in Havana of a French Defeat.

From Our Own Correspondent.

HAVANA, Saturday, April 11, 1863.

The report of which I made mention in my last, that Gen. COMONFORT had suffered a defeat at the hands of the French, is repeated. The French war steamer Darieille, which arrived here from Vera Cruz on the 12th inst., brings the news that Gen. COMONFORT was marching toward Puebla to assist Gen. OZMES, when he was defeated by the French Gen. BAZAINE.

Gen. OZMES is said to have sent a flag of truce to Gen. FOREY, offering to capitulate on certain conditions. The French Commander-in-Chief refused to consent to any capitulation, demanding an unconditional surrender.

The Corporation of Puebla (so runs the account) sent a deputation to Gen. FOREY to ask of him not to destroy the city, and another of ladies presented itself with the same object. It is said that the French General promised not to fire a single cannon against the place as he had means more than sufficient to compel the garrison to surrender.

Gen. OZMES, it is further said, made a sally at the head of 15,000 men to force a way in the direction of the capital, but he met with such powerful obstacles that he had to shut himself up again in the city. He suffered considerable loss.

So great was the abundance of provisions at Vera Cruz for the French army, that they were sold to private individuals at prices comparatively low. Several transports were taking them back to France in large quantities.

A report was current here in Havana yesterday that the French had suffered a defeat; but I have not been able to trace it to any reliable source. I give it only as a rumor.

The counter guerrilla regiment of which was raised about Vera Cruz in the French interest is very harshly spoken of. The person who raised the regiment, a Swiss named SPERLING, has been superseded by a French Colonel, DURIE, who has been levying black mail upon the defenseless inhabitants of the places he occupied, so as at last to be rebuked even by the French authorities at Vera Cruz for his conduct.

The French man-of-war Tarasse, which left Vera Cruz on the 11th, also arrived here yesterday, but of course brings no news of a later date. The French accounts, of course, agree with the intelligence given above.

All the reinforcements which, during the end of March, arrived from France at Vera Cruz, had gone on to Orizaba, where, it appears, they would be quartered for some time.

The sanitary condition of Vera Cruz was tolerably good, and up to the departure of the Tarasse there had occured only a few cases of yellow fever.

Papers from Merida, Yucatan, have arrived here to the 27th ult. The Indians continued committing depredations in the east, and burning houses. A part of the army of operation had left to punish the savages. The Legislature of Yucatan had passed a law that all the male inhabitants of the State, from 17 to 60, should pay a monthly capitation tax of one real, there being exempted those who were unable to work, the natives who had obtained the title of Hidalgo, those who might happen to be in the army, during the time they were employed and for a month after, and the places that were already excepted by a special decree. OBSEQUIES OF LIEUT.-COL. E. A. KIMBALL.

Impressive Ceremonies.

The funeral ceremonies of the late gallant officer, Lieut.-Col. EDGAR ANDREW KIMBALL, were solemnized in this City yesterday. The remains were brought here Monday night, and, from that time to the hour of 2 P. M. yesterday, lay in state in the Governor's Room at the City Hall. An opportunity having been afforded friends and citizens to take a final look of the lifeless form of him whose name and praise had been upon the lips of untold numbers, a vast concourse of people, of both sexes and of all ages sought admittance to the chamber to manifest their sympathy with those who had a closer claim as the warm heart and noble attributes that marked his character. Yesterday, the entrance to the Governor's Room was thrown open to visitors, at 10 A. M., and closed at 2 P. M. During that time, the vestibule and staircases of the City Hall was crowded with those anxious to approach the remains. This was accomplished by passing in single column through one entrance, and retiring by way of another. The coffin was of rich rosewood, profusely studded with silver nails, and bore upon each side three massive silver handles. It was placed in the centre of the middle apartment, as American flag being drawn over the lid, upon which were second arms and bouquets of violets, orange buds, camelias and other delicate flowers. Pendant from the central cluster were the NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Judge Betts, in the United States District Court yesterday, decided orally to accede to the request of the United States District-Attorney, that the mail of the Peterhoff might be delivered to him, to be disposed of, according to the instructions of the Government. It is understood that the mail will be delivered to the British Consul.

A dispatch from Memphis to the Cincinnati Gazette gives an account of the running of the Vicksburgh batteries by a portion of Admiral Porter's fleet on Thursday last, which differs from the accounts given by us yesterday, and is evidently less reliable. It says that seven gunboats, one ram and three transports started to run down, while the official dispatch from Washington says nothing about a ram. The Gazette's dispatch says that one of the transports returned, which is contrary to the official account, and that all hands on the Henry Clay, the transport that was burnt, were believed to be lost, while the official account says they were all saved. The dispatch is probably founded on a rebel version of the affair.

We learn from Memphis of two or three severe skirmishes with the rebels in that vicinity, in which they were defeated and driven across the Coldwater River. Quite a number of them were killed, wounded and captured. At last accounts a skirmish was going on across the river.

Rebel deserters who have arrived at Fortress Monroe report that the rebels are engaged in removing the obstructions from James River at Fort Darling—for what purpose is not known.

Gen. Halleck arrived at Fortress Monroe on the 21st, and, in company with Gen. Dix, proceeded to Suffolk.

A New-Orleans dispatch dated the 14th, brought by the George Washington, states that the ram Queen of the West was captured from the enemy in Grand Lake that morning, and that her commander and crew were taken prisoners. Another dispatch brought by the same steamer states that the insurgents evacuated Centreville, La., on the 13th, and attempted to retreat, but were so hemmed in between the two divisions of Gen. Weitzel and Gen. Emory, that their capture was deemed very probable.

THE STATE LEGISLATURE.

In the Senate, yesterday, the bill for the education and care of indigent deaf mutes was reported favorably, ordered to a third reading and passed. The bill increasing the compensation of Commissioners of Jurors in Kings County was ordered to a third reading, and subsequently passed. The Assembly amendments to the Militia bill were concurred in. The bill amending the Excise law was lost, and a motion to reconsider was tabled. The New-York Building and Lien act was passed; also, the amended Tax bill; also, the Mott Haven and Fourth-street Ferry bill. The Staten Island Ferry bill was ordered to a third reading. During the afternoon session, Mr. Gannon's concurrent resolutions proposing amendments to the Constitution, allowing soldiers to vote, were tabled. Nothing of importance was done in the evening session.

In the Assembly, the bill establishing a Quarantine and defining the powers of the Health Officer of the port of New-York, was passed; also, the bill establishing a law library in Brooklyn; also, the bill providing additional means for the relief of disabled soldiers. The bill amending the Code was lost. The bill allowing soldiers to vote was passed—65 to 59, and Mr. Dean's resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution, so as to grant to soldiers the right of suffrage, was adopted—114 to 1. In the evening, the New-York Tax Levy was passed. The Broadway Railroad bill was reported complete, and on motion of S. C. Fields it was read a third time and passed. It contains an amendment repealing that portion of the charter of the Harlem Railroad allowing them to build a railroad through Broadway, with the consent of the Common Council.

FROM EUROPE.

The steamship Persia arrived at this port, yesterday, with advices from Europe two days later. She left Liverpool on the 11th, and Queenstown on the 12th inst. The news is interesting. The steamer Japan, alias the Virginia, which recently escaped from Greenock, in England, had been spoken off the French coast by a vessel, which took from on board her seventeen men, two of whom had been wounded by an explosion in her machinery. The new pirate proceeded to sea on the 9th, having received a large supply of arms and ammunition. The English Government has been catechised in the House of Lords regarding the gunboats being built for the "Emperor of China." The Liverpool Chamber of Commerce had called upon the Government to make the Foreign Enlistment act more stringent. All work had been suspended upon the seized steamer Alexandra, by order of the Government, until an investigation of her case could be had. It was asserted that the Messrs. Laird, of Birkenhead, had been interrogated by the Government relative to the gunboats said to be building by them for the rebels, and that they gave formal assurances that they were for the Emperor of China. It was also reported that Government officials were making inquiries in Liverpool relative to the Alabama. England, France and Austria sent simultaneous dispatches to Russia on the 10th, regarding the Polish question, which are understood to be couched in friendly terms; but which, at the same time, convey a warning. Meantime, we have accounts of the continued spread of the revolutionary movement, and the latest dispatch wid Queenstown brings the announcement from St. Petersburgh of an Imperial manifesto granting amnesty to all Poles who lay down their arms and return to their allegiance by the 13th of May, with the promise of reforms in the administration of the Government. The Liverpool Cotton market had suffered a slight decline. Breadstuffs and Provisions were tending downward. Consols 92¼@92¾ for money.

GENERAL NEWS.

By the arrival at this port late last night of the steamship Eagle, from Havana on the 18th inst., we have advices from Mexico to the 12th, by a French steamer from Vera Cruz. The news from Puebla is very different from that given by us yesterday, by way of Matamoras. According to the French accounts, Comonfort, in an attempt to join Ortega in Puebla, had been defeated, with considerable loss; and Ortega had attempted to sally in the direction of the Capital, but had been driven back. Gharda is also said to have offered to capitulate, which offer was refused by the French commander, who insisted upon an unconditional surrender. One curious item of the news is that in answer to the prayer of a deputation of women that he would not bombard the city, Forey had promised not to do so, he having sufficient appliances to compel the garrison to surrender. In this connection we may mention a significant rumor which prevailed in Havana, that Forey had suffered a defeat. The Havana news by the Eagle is without special interest.

The funeral ceremonies of the late Lieut.-Col. E. A. Kimball were celebrated in this City, yesterday. The procession left the City Hall, at ½ o'clock P. M., and proceeded up the Bowery to Bond-street, thence down Broadway to South Ferry. The remains were taken to Greenwood Cemetery to be placed in a vault till the arrival in this City of the Hawkins Zouaves, the regiment to which Col. Kimball was attached.

The trial of Senate Rainey for the murder of Siegfried Phillips, the diamond merchant, was continued in the Kings County Court of Oyer and Terminer yesterday. A number of witnesses were examined on the part of the prosecution. The case for the prosecution will probably be closed this evening. Some sixteen witnesses were examined, but no testimony of a decisive character was elicited.

There was much excitement on the Stock Exchange yesterday on the Railway Shares, Harlem leading off with an advance of 10@12 ⅌ cent. Gold was about 1 ⅌ cent. higher, closing 144¼ ⅌ cent. The Treasury received no less than two millions of Money on deposit at 5 ⅌ cent., and $1,200,000 for conversion into the New Loan of 1882.

Flour and Wheat were quiet and depressed yesterday. Corn was more active, but was cheaper. Provisions were heavy and drooping. Less activity was discernible in Groceries, Hay, Oils, Tallow and Whisky—the latter article closing at reduced rates. Spices were in more demand. Extensive auction sales of Coal and Wool took place during the day. Cotton was inactive. Freights were dull and rates easier, with 424 vessels of all classes in port.

A Change for the Better in English Policy.

We are glad to see some indication of decided progress on the part of the British Government toward an honest observance of its neutrality obligations in respect to rebel privateering. A year ago last February, the Florida was launched, piemed for six guns and provided with magazines, was manned with a crew of Englishmen with hardly an exception, took on board a cargo of one hundred and seventy-three tons of arms, and notwithstanding the perfect notoriety that she was to engage in privateering business, she was allowed to sail without the slightest hindrance; and all the answer the remonstrances of Mr. Adams could elicit from Earl Russell was "a polite expression of regret." Four months afterward the Alabama was in like manner launched; her whole manner of construction and peculiar adaptation to war purposes, as well as the notorious fact that the whole direction of her building and outfit, and shipping of the crew, were in the hands of the agents of the rebel Government, showed conclusively that she was intended to prey upon the commerce of the United States; the remonstrances of Mr. Adams in this case only led in about a month to a sham attempt to stop her, when it was too late. Now, after an interval of eight months, the little propeller Alexandra, with no gunports at all, or any of the visible appurtenances of a man-of-war, presenting simply the appearance of a schooner-rigged steam-yacht, is no sooner launched than she is seized by order from the Foreign Office. No men had been shipped for her, no arms had been taken on board, and not even her engines had been set. So far as we can judge, the evidence against her was not a fiftieth part so palpable as that in either of the other two cases, and yet Earl Russell hurries his officials, post haste, to put the "broad arrow" on her mast.

Now, it is possible that the explanation for this singular difference of action may be found in the fact that the Alexandra is so small that she could, at best, do our commerce comparatively little injury. We far prefer, however, to believe that it is the earnest of a new policy upon the part of the British Ministry. The liberal and just views just set forth by Earl Russell, in reply to the claim of the owner of the Peterhoff, favor that supposition. Beside, we have the authority of the London News for the statement that the Government has issued instructions to the Liverpool officials in all cases, where there is the slightest suspicion that ships are being built for other than neutral Powers, to present their case at once to the legal authorities. It is difficult to make this harmonious with the contumelious tone of Lord Palmerston in the late debate; but, perhaps, that was simply the last flighty flicker of expiring spite.

If this change in British action shall prove real and permanent, there is cause for great rejoicing. We shall hail it not simply or chiefly because it weakens the resources of the rebels. It will undoubtedly do that, yet it would hardly hasten the downfall of the rebellion a single day. The decisive battle has got to be fought upon the land, alike whether our commerce continues to be preyed upon or not. The great point gained is not that we are relieved of any danger of rebel triumph—there has been no such danger—but that it removes the moral certainty of a war with England. Nobody who understands American character, and the influences which give final shape to our public affairs, has doubted that the continuance by the English Government of its bad faith of last year would inevitably, sooner or later, occasion war between the two countries. This virtual alliance with the rebels in destroying our commerce, it was certain, would either provoke reprisals upon British commerce while yet we were engaged with the rebellion, or would hereafter be the basis of vast claims upon England for indemnification, which nothing short of war would adjust. A thorough carrying out of neutral obligations and faithful adherence to international law, from this time on, will cause the past to be forgotten, and make peace as certain as war would have been under the contrary conduct.

Were there any disposition to seek for motives which may have led to this change of policy, they could be easily found. Lord Lyons himself furnished the key in the closing lines of his memorable dispatch, when he adverted to "the immediate and obvious interest of Great Britain" as "the point chiefly worthy of consideration." It would not be uncharitable to assume that the action of the late Congress empowering the President to issue letters-of-marque, has had a favorable influence upon Earl Russell's comprehension of neutral obligations. So, too, doubtless, has the growing determination of the American people that the disregard of those obligations shall be atoned for to the full. And so, too, has the increasing resentment of the laboring classes of England that the side with which they sympathize should be so wickedly injured. Moreover, the passage of our Conscription bill, increasing soldiers to any required number, instead of the anticipated depletion of our armies—the triumphant success of our new financial system, instead of the prophesied bankruptcy—the reunited and intensified public sentiment of the North, in place of the internecine strife so confidently expected, and all the accumulating evidences that the National power will certainly overmaster the Confederacy, have, doubtless, had their influence. The English Ministry, at last, there is reason to believe, is really getting to regard the United States as entitled, at least, to be feared. That secured, all is secured.

The Broadway Railroad.

Public sentiment is unanimous and emphatic in approbation of the action of the Common Council on the subject of a railroad in Broadway. Under other circumstances the feeling would probably be different. But whatever may be the wishes of individuals, the public understand perfectly that we are to have a railroad in Broadway. The Legislature will not adjourn until the right to build one has been conferred upon George Law and his associates. The large majorities for the measure in both Houses render it certain that the friends of the bill have the power to pass it over the Governor's head—even if he should veto it, which he is not likely to do; and it is well understood at Albany that while they may take a recess, they will not adjourn until the success of this measure is put beyond a doubt.

But for the interposition of the Common Council, therefore, it is certain that we should have a railroad in Broadway, owned by Mr. Law and his associates, managed in the manner and style of the Eighth-avenue road, which is owned by the same parties, paying nothing to the City Treasury, and treating with utter contempt the public and private interests to be affected by it. The public prefer infinitely that the road, if built at all, should be in other hands. The Harlem Railroad Directors are substantial, respectable and responsible men; and in their hands the road would be managed with due regard to the interests of the public, and the convenience of those who might wish to use it. The bill passed by the Common Council, moreover, secures a very large contribution to the City Treasury from the proceeds of this franchise—quite as large a sum as Mr. A. T. Stewart and his associates propose to pay for the grant, if given to them. One-tenth, not of the profits, but of the gross earnings, of the road, are to be paid monthly into the treasury of the City. Beside this, each car is to pay a license annually of $25, and the Company is to keep Broadway paved and in repair at its own expense. These are substantial and valuable advantages, from which the tax-payers of the City will derive not less than $200,000 annually in reduction of their burdens.

The supporters of the Broadway Railroad in the Legislature will pass their bill without reference to the action of the Common Council. They rely on the law of 1860, which, they claim, repeals the grant previously made to the Harlem Railroad. That grant is embodied in an amendment made to the original charter of the Road in 1832, the first section of the amendment reading as follows:

Section 1. The President and Directors of the New-York and Harlem Railroad Company are hereby authorized and empowered, with the permission of the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commonalty of the City of New-York, to extend their railroad along the Fourth-avenue to Fourteenth-street in the said City, and through such other streets in the said City as the Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty of said City may from time to time permit, subject to such prudential rules as are prescribed by this act, and as the said Mayor, Aldermen and Commonalty in Common Council convened may prescribe.

In 1860 a law was passed, of which the first section reads as follows:

Section 1. It shall not be lawful hereafter to lay, construct, or operate any railroad in, upon, or along any or either of the streets of the City of New-York, wherever such railroad may commence on end, except under the authority and subject to the regulations and restrictions which the Legislature may hereafter grant and provide. This section shall not be deemed to affect the operation as far as laid of any railroad now constructed and duly authorized. Nor shall it be held to impair in any manner, any valid grant for, or relating to any railroad, in said City, existing on the 1st day of January, 1860.

The grant to the Harlem Railroad, contained in the section quoted above, was certainly "valid," and was also "in existence on the 1st of January, 1860." The only possible pretext for supposing that it is annulled by this law rests upon the assumption that a conditional grant is not a grant at all. Whether it is or not, the Courts of law will decide when the case comes before them.

We do not know whether the Mayor has yet signed the ordinance of the Common Council or not. We presume, however, that it has been or will be signed, as it conforms in all its essential features to the principles laid down in his recent Message on the subject. It gives adequate protection to the interests of the City, and contains in the character of the Harlem Railroad Directors ample security for the good management of the road. This is the only way, moreover, in which the City can be saved from the outrageous bill now pending in the Legislature. Under these circumstances, we presume, the Mayor will have no hesitation in signing the bill.

The Peterhoff and the Courts.—Our telegram from Washington, yesterday morning, told us that the question of the prize steamer Peterhoff had been brought up at a Cabinet meeting, and that it was understood that the result was a determination to leave the matter of the vessel and her mails to be determined by the Court. The report of the proceedings in the case, yesterday, in the District Court, here, told a somewhat different story. The District-Attorney, on behalf of the Government and under instructions from the State Department, and from the President himself, moved the Court for an order directing the mail found on board to be delivered to the British Consul unopened, to be by him forwarded to Matamoras, whither it purported to be destined. The motion was opposed by the counsel for the naval captors, but the Court, after due consideration, held that the District-Attorney had the control of the suit, and could withhold any evidence which he saw fit. Accordingly, the mail was delivered up to the British Consul unopened.

We must say that we are not pleased with the aspect which this matter presents. Of course the Court could do no otherwise when the motion was made by the District-Attorney, and the District-Attorney was bound to make the motion when instructed by the Government at Washington. But why does the Government interfere with the due course of the law? There were, as it seems to us, but two courses which the Government could properly adopt. Either it should have taken the whole affair into its own hands, and treated it as a matter of State, or it should have left the whole affair in the hands of the Court, to be treated as a matter of law. As long as it allowed the Court to pass upon the question of prize or no prize, it should have permitted it to have the entire disposal of the matter, to decide this question of the mail according to the rules of evidence in prize cases. It may be an open question whether the Court would have ordered this mail to be examined. There is no case in point that we know of, nor was any such case cited on the argument of the motion. It will be seen, however, that Judge Betts intimated his impression that the mail was evidence in the cause. If it was evidence, the action of the Government, in withdrawing it from the consideration of the Court, is still more objectionable.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL WASHINGTON DISPATCHES.

Washington, Wednesday, April 22.

Gen. Jeff. C. Pick has fulfilled the highest expectations of his friends. The rebels counted sorely on his being overwhelmed. The Petersburgh Express, of the 18th, said:

"Our people are buoyant and hopeful, as they ought to be. We have in that direction as gallant an army as was ever mustered under any sun, and commanded by an officer who has won laurels for every engagement, from the first Manassas to that at Fredericksburgh. Such an army, commanded by such an officer as Longstreet, may be defeated, but such an event is scarcely within the range of probability, if we have been correctly informed as to the number of the enemy garrisoning Suffolk during the past six weeks."

Longstreet crossed with this great army on five bridges over the Blackwater on the night of the 10th, and opened on all the approaches to Suffolk, excepting one. On the night of the 11th, he drove in our picket lines. From that day until now he has labored to turn our flanks, especially the right flank on the Nansemond River, which for some ten miles is not over a hundred feet wide, and so is favorable for crossing.

Jeff. Davis, Lee, Longstreet and D. H. Hill prepared the plan of attack on Peck. Longstreet was to advance with 35,000 men, cut the river about five or six miles below, cross and unite with Hill, who was to come from North Carolina with 22,000 men through the Dismal Swamp. All communication thus cut off, Peck was to be trapped and the James River opened to Norfolk, where their iron-clads and other craft could have ready access to the ocean. The James, next to the Mississippi, is the most important river in the Confederacy.

The best General New-York has given to the war—Peck, of Syracuse—with fighting and with vigilance, has baffled all this strategy.

THE REBELS REINFORCED.

The rebels on the Rappahannock have been largely reinforced within the last week. New rebel encampments were visible this morning opposite Falmouth.

A SKIRMISH ABOVE KELLEY'S FORD.

On Tuesday, in a skirmish with the rebels above Kelley's Ford, we captured one Lieutenant-Colonel, several Captains and Lieutenants, and about twenty privates.

AN EXPLOSION.

On Monday, while the artillery was being inspected by Gen. Hunt, near Falmouth, a caisson loaded with shells exploded, wounding four men—one dangerously.

ADJT.-GEN. THOMAS.

Senator Sumner remarked to-day that Adjt.-Gen. Thomas' speech, at Providence, La., was the great act of the war. All listeners to the Congressional debates during last session, can now understand the implacable hostility of Garrett Davis toward this soldier, sans peur et sans reproche. He was an Abolitionist, and the Republicans who distrusted him, and who united in the unjust movement for his removal from office, can now appreciate the wrong they would have done the public service and a gallant and loyal soldier, if they had secured the ear of the President, and had accomplished their purpose.

AN EXODUS OF MARTINS.

Gen. Heintzelman to-day sent a reverend Martin, the horns of whose altar had been sharpened and poisoned against freedom, with a wagon full of vituperous young Martins, from Prince George, Maryland, to our lines, there to be let loose inside of rebellious Virginia. Capt. Jenness superintended this emigration.

J. L. Brewster, Co. C, 9th New-York cavalry.
Geo. W. Breckenridge, Co. G, 104th Pennsylvania.

The President's private Secretary, John Hay, has accepted an appointment on Gen. Hunter's Staff.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, Wednesday, April 22.

THE REPORT OF THE WAR COMMITTEE.

The report, journal and testimony, of the Committee on the Conduct of the War embrace 736 printed octavo pages, relating to the Army of the Potomac. From this it appears that 87 witnesses were examined, of whom forty were Generals. The proceedings relative to the investigation of the Bull Run and Bull's Bluff battles, covering over 500 pages, show that 77 witnesses were examined, of whom 29 were Generals.

REFUGEES.

Fifteen refugees, all foreigners, were picked up 80 miles down the Potomac and brought to Washington to-day. They had converted their funds into gold and State stock, and appeared very anxious to go further North. They paid $5 in rebel money for one in gold, and $3 50 for $1 in "greenbacks."

CAPT. WORDEN.

Capt. Worden has arrived from the Charleston fleet, having been detached from his command owing to ill health.

THE REBEL GUNBOATS BUILDING IN ENGLAND.

Intelligence from England leads to the belief that the departure of privateers from British ports will be arrested by the English Government.

NAVAL.

Commander Wm. F. Green has been ordered to the command of the steamer Cambridge, of the North Atlantic squadron, and Lieut.-Commander Baker has been ordered for duty to the Tuscarora.

MONETARY AFFAIRS.

Wednesday, April 22—P. M.

The Stock Exchange has been greatly excited throughout the day, mainly on Harlem Railroad shares, the rapid rise and successful movement on which has informed, anew, the spirit of speculation generally on the Share list. The grant of the City Councils, last night, to the Harlem Company to run a track through Broadway and Whitehall and Fulton streets, is deemed equivalent to a Broadway Road in a more legitimate and popular form than the bill which is being pressed, by the main force of jobbery, through the New-York Legislature. This franchise is not only consistent with the original charter of the Harlem Company, but its exercise through Broadway—where, sooner or later, it has been foreseen for several years, a railway, under some sort of grant, must be built—will be productive of a large revenue to the City, and to the extent of 10 ⅌ cent. of the gross receipts, a positive relief to the taxpayers. It appeared to be the understanding this afternoon that the Mayor would approve the ordinance. If, after this, the Bill before the Legislature which grants this great franchise without consideration to the City should pass both Houses, the probability is that it will lapse in the hands of the Governor. The Legislature will adjourn before the ten days allowed for his consideration of the measure. He is, therefore, not called upon to send his veto, and it is quite certain that if he consults the popular feeling in this metropolis, he will never sign it in its present most objectionable shape.

The early Street sales of Harlem, before the Free Board, were rapidly advanced from 69 to 75¼ ⅌ cent., the price returning to 70@69 ⅌ cent. At the Board the realizations were heavy at 70@68¾ ⅌ cent. Subsequent sales were at 69@69¾ ⅌ cent. At the Second Board 69@67 ⅌ cent., and afterward at 67½@68 ⅌ cent. The gross sales of the day were scarcely less than 35,000 shares. The average advance on yesterday's sales, about 12 ⅌ cent. The extreme advance 19 ⅌ cent. The other New-York Road Shares were firmer. The additional rise on Hudson, 5 ⅌ cent., with nearly as much excitement inside the Board as on Harlem. Central and Erie were active in the afternoon, and the Western list followed up, under free orders of a speculative character, encouraged undoubtedly by the successful movements in Harlem and Hudson. The Government Securities advanced on yesterday's sales, and the State Railroad Bonds were generally higher. At 4 o'clock, the following rates were made in comparison with Tuesday night. Immense transactions in Harlem at 67@68 ⅌ cent., with continued excitement on the Stock at the Public Board:

	Tue.	Wed.		Tue.	Wed.

The price of Gold Coin was firmer to-day than yesterday, after the early sales of the morning, which opened as low as 145@145¼ ⅌ cent. on the Street. At both sessions of the Board there appeared to be a stronger demand than on the Street, reversing the order of last week, when the outsiders were ahead of the Board demand. The extreme advance on yesterday's closing figure was 1½ ⅌ cent., say 147¼ ⅌ cent. The price was subsequently ½@¾ ⅌ cent. lower; the advance not being supported by the market for Exchange, nor by any appearance of export buyers. The Africa took out only $34,000 in Gold and Silver.

There is an increased pressure of Money upon the Treasury to-day. The receipts at the office in this City of all kinds are nearly three and a half millions, of which $2,000,000 is on deposit, at 5 ⅌ cent., and $1,200,000 for conversions of Currency into the New Loan.

DEAFNESS
NOISES IN THE HEAD,
Diseases of the Eye, Ear & Throat,
CATARRH CURED
BY
DR. VON EISENBERG.

From the Journal of Commerce.

ERGENS NEWS FOR THE DEAF.—An instrument called Dr. Von Eisenberg's Air Passage Expander and Regulator, a gigantic machine, weighing nearly five hundred pounds, about five feet in height, a most wonderful apparatus for restoring sight and hearing, has just arrived for Dr. Von Eisenberg, the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, and will be on exhibition at the Doctor's office, No. 816 Broadway, for a few days previous to its use. The instrument is constructed decidedly on the most scientific principles. To give a detailed description would require a greater space than we can now spare. Our Oculist and Aurist seems to do everything in the line of his profession on a gigantic scale. The new instrument for restoring hearing to the deaf and sight to the blind is so constructed that it cannot fail to open the most obstructed ear passage. His new consulting rooms, No. 816 Broadway, are correspondingly magnificent, and his practice as Aurist and Oculist large and eminently successful.

SENSATION AMONG THE DEAF.—The surprising skill of Dr. Von Eisenberg, the distinguished Oculist and Aurist, of No. 816 Broadway, has made quite a sensation among the Deaf and Blind by his wonderful cures, which attract the Deaf, Blind and those suffering from Chronic Catarrh, from all parts of the Union to his office. The number of his certificates of really wonderful cures swells daily. For the benefit of sufferers, we submit the following, which requires no comment:

NEW-YORK, Feb. 4, 1868.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, accompanied with constant rumbling noises in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. I, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, due to displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principle which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.
JOHN TAYLOR,
No. 19 Livingston-st., Brooklyn.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1867.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with congealed blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.
CARROLL J. POST, No. 28 South-st.
No. 158 Maiden-st., New-York.

J. B. VON EISENBERG, M. D.—Dear Doctor: I have been afflicted with total deafness, and was induced to pay you a visit. He one can imagine my delight when, after one operation, my hearing was suddenly, and without pain, restored to me, for which I feel very grateful. After being totally deaf—almost shut out from the pleasure of using so necessary a sense—to have it returned, and to hear so distinctly, reflects great credit on you for the immense extent of skill you possess. I beg to thank you for what I can so truly appreciate. I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

NEW-YORK, Nov. 6, 1867.

Dr. VON EISENBERG—Dear Sir: Before taking leave of you, after your most successful operation on my ear, allow me to express my sincere thanks for your skillful and delicate surgical performance. I am enabled to hear distinctly, and enjoy a pleasure of which I have long been deprived—over a year. May not be rewarded by being enabled to perform many similar, to benefit other sufferers, and to your own emolument.

Allow me to present my kindest regards, and assure you of my grateful remembrance. Respectfully,
A. McDONALD REYNOLDS,
Captain Marines, United States.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my pain completely stopped my accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great lightness of the chest and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as Mr. his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case, that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured.

Which are the evidences of LIVER COMPLAINT AND DYSPEPSIA.

It is estimated that seven-tenths of all adult sickness proceed from a diseased and torpid liver. The biliary secretions of the liver overflowing into the stomach poison the entire system and exhibit the above symptoms.

After long research, we are able to present the most remarkable cure for these horrid nightmare diseases the world has ever produced. Within one year, over six hundred and forty thousand persons have taken the Plantation Bitters, and not an instance of complaint has come to our knowledge!

It is a most effectual tonic and agreeable stimulant, suited to all conditions of life.

The reports that it relies upon mineral substances for its active properties, are wholly false. For the public satisfaction, and that patients may consult their physicians, we append a list of its components.

GALLICA BARK.—Celebrated for over two hundred years in the treatment of Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Weakness, &c. It was introduced into Europe by the Countess, wife of the Viceroy of Peru, in 1640, and afterwards sold by the Jesuits for the enormous price of its own weight in silver, under the name of Jesuit's Powder, and was finally made public by Louis XVI., King of France. Humboldt makes especial reference to its febrifuge qualities during his South American travels.

DANDELION.—For inflammation of the loins and dropsical affections.

CAMOMILE FLOWERS.—For enfeebled digestion.

WINTERGREEN.—For scrofula, rheumatism, &c.

ANISE.—An aromatic carminative; creating flesh, muscle and milk; much used by mothers nursing.

Also, cloves, coriander, orange, nutmeg, coriander, snake-root, &c.

NEW-YORK, S. T., 1867—X.

Another wonderful Incredient, of Spanish origin, imparting beauty in the completion and brilliancy to the mind, is yet unknown to the commerce of the world, and we withhold its name for the present.

DR. STERLING'S AMBROSIA
will cause the hair to grow in the most luxuriant manner. It is a sure remedy against baldness; prevents the hair from falling out or from turning prematurely gray. Will restore gray hair to its original color, by curing the disease of the scalp.

CERTIFICATES.

This is to certify that about six months ago, I commenced using Byrnstone's Ambrosia. My hair was short, thin, and rapidly falling out. I had tried many Hair Tonics, Restoratives, &c., without receiving any benefit. Soon after using the Ambrosia, my hair ceased falling out, and commenced growing in the natural way. Now, my hair is thick, soft and glossy, and is five feet four inches in length—when let down, reaching to the floor. This wonderful result I attribute solely to the use of Byrnstone's Ambrosia, as since I discontinued using it I have again commenced to lose my hair.

AGENCY OF THE NATIONAL FIVE-TWENTY YEAR LOAN.

Office of Livermore, Clews & Co.,
No. 34 Wall-st., New-York.

We facilitate means of answering the many numerous inquiries made of us respecting the United States Five-Twenty Loan, for which we act as agents.

Gold Bonds bear six per cent. interest, payable semi-annually, in gold, on the first of May and the first of November.

Have coupons to run, but being redeemable at the pleasure of the Government after five years, are designed Five-Twenties.

Are issued in Coupon and Registered Bonds; the former in denominations of 50's, 100's, 500's, 1,000's; the latter in 50's, 100's, 500's, 1,000's, 5,000's and upwards.

The Coupon Bonds have coupons attached for twenty years, and are payable transferable to bearer.

The Registered Bonds are issued in the name of the purchaser, whose name and residence are recorded on the books of the Treasury Department at Washington, and are only transferable by signature, or power of Attorney, before an authorized Government official. The interest is collected in the same manner at the Sub-Treasury nearest the residence of the owner, or at the Treasury at Washington.

Both principal and interest are payable in gold, as provided by act of Congress.

Are, (in common with all Government Bonds,) free from taxation by city, town, county or State; and the income derived from the interest is free from taxation of the United States tax levied upon incomes derived from other sources.

The privilege of conversion, at par will open on the 1st of July, 1863.

These Bonds are supplied by us at par and accrued interest in currency—interest commencing to the purchaser upon deposit of the money. Hence, the first coupon falling due, being stamped with the date of the issue of the Bond, will be fractional, instead of three per cent., like the interest upon other Bonds.

Orders, by mail or otherwise, accompanied by draft on New-York, or convertible funds, will be promptly responded to.

Bidders will state the quantities they wish to furnish, and the shortest possible time in which deliveries can be made by them.

Proposals must be accompanied by the names of responsible parties, who will be ready to become sureties to the amount of one-fourth the value of the stores proposed to be furnished, if required.

The United States reserves the right to reject any portion, or the whole of the bids, as may be deemed for the interest of the Government.

Proposals should be indorsed "Proposals for Furnishing," then insert the articles named in the bids, and addressed to

LIEUT.-COL. D. H. VINTON,

Proposals must be addressed to the "Committee on Supplies of the Board of Education," and should be indorsed "Proposals for Coal," or "Proposals for Wood," as the case may be.

The Committee reserve the right to reject any or all of the proposals offered, and the contracts to be entered into are to be subject to the approval of the Board of Education.

QUARTERMASTER-GENERAL'S OFFICE, WASHINGTON CITY, March 19, 1863.

OWNERS OF STEAM VESSELS ARE INVITED to send to the Quartermaster-General's Office tenders for fleet charter by sale.

Tenders should contain descriptions of the vessels, their dimensions, enrolled or registered tonnage, actual carrying capacity, material, whether copper, whether fitted for screw or propeller, date of last repair, number, size and power of engines, and boilers; and should state the price at which they are offered, for long or short charter, with the estimated value of the vessel in case of loss, or in case the Government should prefer to purchase instead of chartering.

Owners of steam vessels already in the service of the Quartermaster's Department are requested to make known to the Department any reduction in their present rates which they may be willing to grant, and also the price at which they will sell their vessels.

All such tenders should be addressed to the Quartermaster-General of the United States at Washington, and should be indorsed "Proposals for charter or sale of steamers."

When received they will be considered, and the Department will endeavor to reduce the heavy expense attending ocean transportation, upon the coasts and inland waters, by substituting wherever it can do so, cheaper vessels of equal capacity for those now employed.

M. C. MEIGS,
Quartermaster-General U. S. Army.
